CF EVANS CONSTRUCTION

Your Partner in Early Project Decisions

As Director of Preconstruction, Taylor leads the team that turns a client's vision and priorities into a buildable plan and a reliable path to construction. He oversees preconstruction strategy, estimating, schedule planning, and risk review, working with the client, designers, trade partners, and CF Evans Operations leaders to surface decisions while there is still time to improve the outcome. Having come up through CF Evans as Assistant Project Manager, Project Manager, Senior Project Manager, and Project Executive, Taylor gives clients an accountable leader who connects design, budget, schedule, and construction execution from the start.

On Your Project, Taylor:

- Leads preconstruction strategy, estimating, and schedule planning
- Connects design, budget, schedule, and construction execution from day one
- Surfaces key decisions while there is still time to improve the outcome
- Reviews risk early with the design and Operations teams
